

What is considered to be ineligible use of proceeds?

Proceeds from lottery licenses may not be used for the following:

- Academic and sports awards and trophies;
- Volunteer recognition
- Fundraising activities, including wages for fundraiser and the cost of promotional materials;
- The provision of services for which the organization receives government funding or which the organization is required by law to provide;
- Legal Fees/costs incurred by the organization;
- Accounting fees, except as provided for by the terms and conditions of the lottery license;
- Out of pocket expense for volunteers to participate in the licensed lottery event, except as provided for by the terms and conditions of the lottery license.

The above list is not intended to be exhaustive but to simply provide some examples of ineligible use of proceeds.
